EXPERTISE

With over 8 years in the art department on film and television sets, complemented by a degree in cinematography, I bring a deep understanding of set dynamics, visual storytelling and performer needs. I am completing my Intimacy Coordinator certification through the Intimacy Professionals Association (IPA), including training in movement, and have additional studies in mental health first aid and on-set safety. Calm, empathetic and highly organized, I communicate effectively with actors, directors and production teams, anticipating challenges and creating safe, respectful, professional environments. My combination of experience, training and collaborative approach ensures I am ready to step into intimacy coordination and support every production from day one.
